Nutter gives address

NEW LENOX — Annual commencement at Lincoln-Way High School will be held this Friday night, June 9, in the school gymnasium.

The program is to begin at 8 p.m. with approximately 360 seniors participating. Last year the commencement speaker was Michelle O'Toole, a member of the graduating class, and the program was so successful that the same format will be followed this year. The speaker will be Mark Nutter, one of the top students with a four year average of 3.50 to 4.0.

He has been quite active in drama and speech program and has represented the school in both fields in state contests. He is a graduate of Oakview Junior High and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nutter, who operate the Haven Motel at Cedar Road and U.S. 6. Mark is 17.

The graduates will occupy chairs on the main floor of the gymnasium and some 300 more chairs will be reserved there for parents.

There will be additional reserved space for parents in the bleachers but a large percentage of the space will be on a first-come-first-served basis.

Before the processional of the graduates the school chorus will sing three selections and the band will play a number before launching into the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" as the seniors file in.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Eugene E. Kalkbrenner, pastor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Manhattan, who will also pronounce the benediction.

Martin McLaughlin, head sponsor of the senior class will introduce Mark Nutter.

The commencement address will be followed by some brief remarks by Dr. Robert Keener, Frankfort, president of the Lincoln-Way board of education. Then Superintendent Joe Kruzich will present the class and the diplomas given out.

The diplomas will be presented by the officers of the senior class, David Greene, president; Jim Davis, vice president, and Nicki Vecera, secretary. Marie Hildreth, the class treasurer, will not be on hand as she left last weekend to enter summer school at the University of Wyoming.

Rezoning considered

MOKENA — When the Mokena village board meets next Tuesday night, June 13, there is a possibility that it will announce a decision on the housing development proposed by the William Webers, senior and junior.

At a joint session of the representatives of the village board, the zoning board and the plan commission at the village hall last week with the Webers, their architect, Duane Linden, and attorney, Jim Lynch, for a discussion of the planned unit development that has been under consideration for the past 13 months.

The land under discussion is the 50-acre tract between Midland Avenue and School House Road with 191st Street the north boundary. The Webers own another 40 acres east of School House Road, which presently is zoned for industrial use.

One of the major points at issue is the number of dwelling units to be allowed per acre. Robert Mason, of Success Research Consultants Inc., Olympia Fields, retained by the village board, in an advisory capacity on the Weber property discussed this point.

"Based on economic problems," Mason said in part, "if completion or extension of roads, water, sewer and the adjacent property use, the highest density the village should consider at this time is 11 living units per acre. Although we feel that a good density that would be compatible for a PUD density for Mokena would be 5 to 5.5."

He stressed, however, that the economics involved would be a major factor for consideration.

In the case of single family dwellings the density runs about 3.5 per acre, it was brought out. To bring up the overall density of 11 would require 14 or 15 in some areas.

Linden, the Weber's architect, indicated that it would be economically possible to proceed with the development with an overall density of 11.

Cadet Cottingham, of the plan commission, voiced approval of the 11 density, as did Marvin Homering of the village board. Mayor Will T. Tuttle was unable to attend because of a bout with the 'flu' and Trustee Kenneth Warning presided.

Members of the zoning board and plan commission indicated they wanted to discuss the matter among themselves and would report back to the village board prior to its meeting. The zoning board meets tonight (June 7) and the plan commission tomorrow night.

In answer to the question asked by several of those present, "What are the developers going to do for Mokena?" it was pointed out that they were going to install sewer and waterlines that would revert to the village, that they had agreed to meet the requests of the grade and high schools for cash contributions that is figured at approximately $495 per dwelling unit, and that the renters or buyers of the dwelling units would bring more business to the community, and too, there would be the taxes that the improved property would bring in.

A preliminary pre-annexation agreement has been drafted but Village Attorney George Sangmeister said it would have to be amended and amplified if the project is approved.

Final approval of the development will be up to the village board. Because of the expense detailed plans entail the Webers said they would not have them prepared until the density question is settled. William Weber Jr. said he was not giving an ultimatum but that if the density is reduced below 11 the development would have to be abandoned.

Village board accepts new ordinance for subdivisions

FRANKFORT — Under an ordinance adopted by the village board Monday night all new subdivisions in Frankfort will have I-II surfaced streets, which meet state highway standards, instead of the A-3 set-up formerly called for.

The action was taken following unanimous approval of the petition by the Frankfort zoning Board of Appeals at its recent meeting. An A-3 surface has three layers of oil and chips on an eight-inch stone base. I-II calls for 1½ inches of blacktop (bituminous concrete) on top of 1½ inches blacktop binder, over a seven-inch base of stone or acceptable base material.

The I-II is more costly but makes a better street, according to engineers. First application of the new surface will be in Colorado Hills Subdivision for which Joseph Bertoletti is spokesman for the property owners. As originally planned the streets there were to be the A-3 type, because the subdivision plat was approved when the former ordinance was in effect.

Even before the petition for amending the paving regulations for subdivisions was filed with the zoning board Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen, street commissioner, and Mayor Glenn Warning talked with Bertoletti and asked him if he would make the change.

Bertoletti has figures showing that it will cost some $13,000 more to put in I-II. At the meeting Monday night it was voted for the village to bear half of this additional expense.

The zoning board also approved a petition filed by the village increasing the fee for zoning hearings from $100 to $150. An ordinance has been passed to this effect. Village Attorney August Santoro explained that the increase was necessary for the village to break even on the cost of a hearing.

He reported on the other actions of the zoning board and all were approved by the village council, with necessary amendments to the zoning ordinance.

Truck - route question still running-board

FRANKFORT — The question of a truck route, through the Village of Frankfort, which has been aired many times in the past several years, came up again at Monday night's council meeting.

This time two members of the village board, Trustees Richard Trevarthan and Howard Osmus and Bert Breidert, recently named administrative assistant for the village, were named to meet with Duane Warning and Allan Mager as a committee to thresh out details with a view of coming up with a recommendation at the first July meeting.

The next session of the village board, June 19, will be given over entirely to the 1972-73 appropriation ordinance.

In the discussion Monday night it was generally agreed that a volunteer plan—that is one in which trucking firms would voluntarily agree to follow a certain route through the village—is not the answer.

Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen, who also is head of K & K Concrete Co., which operates a large number of trucks out of their mixing plant on Center Road, said they have voluntarily diverted about 35 percent of their traffic around the village and that has to be its maximum effort because of the costs involved in covering the extra distance entailed by using U.S. 45 and Laraway Road to reach their plant. It amounts, he said, to 50 cents a cubic yard, which can't be passed on to the customer.

Mager and Warning have compiled a lot of information on truck traffic through the village for the committee to study. There have been residents on Center, north of the E.J. & E. tracks, Sauk Trail and White Street who have complained about the increase in truck traffic. Center Road, ...county maintained...south of the "J" crossing is an industrial complex that is expected to grow and traffic will grow with it, it was pointed out.

The board indicated that short range plans would have little value in working out a solution. A long range plan would more likely achieve success, in the opinion of some members.

Opening Laraway Road to the east is a project they hope the county can carry out in the next year or two years. This would relieve Sauk Trail of a lot of traffic, it was said, and building Ohio Street between Center Road and U.S. 45 would be a great step forward in reducing truck traffic in the residential sections.

White Street and Nebraska Street are state maintained and there is no way the village can keep trucks off of those streets unless it takes over their maintenance, it was explained, which also would be costly.

Two-car accident

NEW LENOX — Two New Lenox residents were hospitalized following a two-car crash at 159th Street and Parker Road late last Friday. Roger Hellinga, 29, who was reported seriously injured allegedly failed to heed the stop sign at 159th Street and his car was struck broadside by one driven by Chester Suchoski, 50, also of New Lenox. Suchoski's wife, Ruth, 49, was also admitted to Silver Cross Hospital.

Her husband and their 10-year-old daughter, Cheryl, were treated and released.

Greenbriar

Report error found

NEW LENOX — The question of rezoning of property for the proposed Greenbriar Subdivision in New Lenox was again continued at the regular meeting of the New Lenox Plan Commission Monday.

The commission listened to a lengthy report from Robert C. Thornton, of the firm Grumley, Dicke, Thornton & Clark, Certified Public Accountants, on the financial impact of the subdivision of the New Lenox community, only to later learn that the figures computed by Thornton were erroneous due to a misunderstanding between himself and the Levett Residential Communities, developers of the Greenbriar area.

Thornton's projections of financial gain for the community had been questioned by numerous village residents before it was discovered that the figures were in error.

Commission chairman Louis Loebe then advised Thornton and Kenneth Campbell, representative of the Levett firm in its negotiations with the village of New Lenox, to adjust the financial report by the inclusion of accurate figures and to have a proper report available for the regular meeting of the New Lenox village board on Wednesday.

Joseph Poliska and John Glowicki will not be permitted to go ahead with their plans for a restaurant and cocktail lounge—a supper club type they explained—on U.S. 45, 400 feet south of Colorado Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Player were allowed a re-zoning from R-1 to R-1-A of their property on Nebraska Street. It is a large house and they plan to make part of it over into an apartment.

The property of Theodore L. Gerndt, at the northwest corner of Smith and Elwood Street, which was zoned I-1 (light industry) was re-classified to B-2. The purchaser, Robert Broten, who operates the Velvet Coach, plans to have a dress shop and a tea room in the new location. He is asking for a license that would permit him to serve alcoholic beverages at tables only.

Santoro said he informed him that the village does not have such a license under its present liquor ordinance and if he wanted one he would have to apply to the board for an amendment to the ordinance. Broten's plans call for parking for 17 cars. Some concern has been expressed by other property owners about the limitations of the street relative to traffic.

To correct an error in the legal description in the property at White Street and McDonald Lane where Charles Purdy is erecting a one-story commercial building, the amendment to the zoning ordinance was amended. The property has been rezoned from R-1 to B-1.

Santoro also reported that he expects to get a copy of a model ordinance from the Illinois Municipal League dealing with disposal of industrial waste in two or three weeks.

He is also contacting neighboring villages relative to their ordinances requiring smoke tests of sewer mains in new subdivisions. Smoke tests reveal leaks or openings in mains and weather down-spouts are connected with sanitary sewers.

proposes to construct a nursing home. He explained to the commission that its delay in re-zoning of the property to C-2 status has hindered his requests for federal funding for the nursing complex.

While the commission took no action during its regular meeting, it was later decided during executive session that recommendation for C-2 zoning of the property would be made at Wednesday's village board meeting.

The property in question is west of Cooper Road, east of the Norfolk & Western Railroad, and south of Route 30. There was no citizen objection to Flannagan's request.

The request by the owner of Rollie's Conoco Service, for the re-zoning of residential property on Cedar Road for the construction of an automotive service center, did receive citizen objections. Citizen's protested that under either C-3 or C-4 zoning much more than an automotive service center could be constructed on the property.

During executive session the commission considered a C-2 zoning of the property with special approval for the construction of the center.

Village vehicle up in air

FRANKFORT — The Frankfort village board disposed of a number of odds and ends at its meeting Monday night, winding up with an executive session.

Trustee Jerry Osmus is to prepare more specifications for a vehicle to serve the building inspectors and zoning officer. There had been talk of a carry-all type or station wagon. now the board is talking pick-up truck.

The village board reviewed the contract it had with Northern Illinois Gas which has the franchise through the area. The contract remains unchanged and is good for another 50 years.

The Illinois Municipal League meeting was announced for Sept. 22 through Sept. 25, at Chicago. Trustees were asked to make reservations early.

Trustee Wilbert Klier reported that someone was stealing water to fill a swimming pool and it appears he will be required to pay. Mayor Glenn Warning brought up another question about swimming pools — Where do you dump the water when you drain it? Someone was complaining that a neighbor dumped the contents of his pool next door. Indications are that he will get a warning ticket from police. Village Attorney August Santore said the water should be sumped in the sewer.

Trustee Donald Stupp urged enforcement of the ordinance which bans dogs running at large and ascertained that under the Frankfort ordinance a dog that bites a person must be impounded for 14 days. He said the county rabies control contends that one such a dog should be kept under observation but not impounded. The village ordinance will prevail, Santore said. It also provides that after a dog bites the second time the animal is to be destroyed.

Stupp also advocated an ordinance that would ban the start of construction work on Sunday mornings before 7 o'clock. He said several persons have complained to him about noise by builders that disturbed their Sunday morning slumber. Santore said he believed there was authority in ordinances already on the books to control this.

Street Commissioner Lynn Kohlhausen reported his department has started the summer program.

The Center Road project, the paving between Sauk Trail and the E. J. & E. crossing is new up to the state highway department for approval. The county is paying a part of the cost and it is expected the state will pay a share. Sidewalks and street repairs loom large on the plan sheet.

He also suggested that before subdivision plats are finally approved that the village take particular pains to make certain that all the details are set forth so there are no problems later on.

Trustee Michael McAndrew reported that Mobil Foam was giving a multigraph to the village.

It is anticipated that the building purchased by the village across from the village hall will be put to various uses in conjunction with the fall festival. The parking lot has been spoken of for the Antique Car exhibit and the Methodist Women would use a part of the building to serve the chicken dinners it prepares at Festival time, Mayor Warning said. There will be other uses of the premises too, it was indicated.

Clean-up day fails again

FRANKFORT — "Clean-up day at Frankfort this year, like last, was a failure, and this year, unlike last, your drive chairman was on hand to lead the effort."

Thus Allan Mager, former village trustee and chairman of the Clean-up Day program reported to the village board at its meeting Monday night.

There were several reasons for this, Mager explained. There was too little advance publicity in the newspapers, he said, and no village newsletter was sent out. Even the word of mouth advertising had little effect.

Someone pointed out maybe a whispering campaign might have roused the public but Mager said the apathy was general, there was little cooperation and of the 49 persons he contacted personally only four showed up to help in the drive.

With the minimal effort expended, Mager said, four dump truck loads of cans and litter were picked up within a few blocks on the streets.

"Look here," Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen, street commissioner, spoke up. "We sweep those gutters every day." "Apparently," Mager came back,

"people drink faster than you sweep." He said industry failed to cooperate as a whole all though some of the firms do very good housekeeping the year round.

Mayor Glenn Warning thanked Mager for his efforts and to show his gratitude re-appointed him chairman of the next annual Clean-up day, to be staged either just before or just after the annual Fall Festival.

Festival committee people present said they expected to make arrangements to clear up the litter every night of the event.

Oak Forest Schools invaded by Indians

OAK FOREST—Fifteen Apache Indian students recently enjoyed the hospitality of Oak Foresters. And in return, Oak Forest was treated to a demonstration of the ancient tribal dances of the Arizona tribe.

It was all part of a cultural exchange in which the student hosts from Oak Forest hope to visit the Stewart Indian School later this year. The Indian School is located near Carson City, Nev.

The Apache girls and boys arrived Sunday, May 14, for their three day stay. They had previously visited Minneapolis, where they took part in Indian Week activities and taped a television demonstration of their dances.

On Monday the teenagers performed their mountain spirit dances in an assembly at Oak Forest High School. They later performed at Arbor Park and Laramie Schools. The day's activities were climaxed by a potluck dinner at the high school and games in the gym.

The hosts and guests took a field trip Tuesday to tour Chicago. Their first stop was the WVON radio station, where the students actually made commercials, as well as observed the workings of the studio. They also viewed the lakefront from the Outer Drive, toured the Museum of Science and Industry and took in the view from the top of the Hancock building.

The visitors were presented the keys to Oak Forest by Ron Feldner, city manager.

Stewart Indian School, which is federally sponsored, has representatives from 26 different tribes. Its 365 students live there during the school year.

Dog causes auto accident

WESTHAVEN — A motorist swerving to miss a dog crossing the road resulted in a two car accident injuring four persons Sunday night.

The accident occurred on 159th street just west of Haven avenue. According to state police, Elaine Edwards of Oak Forest was west bound on 159th when she swerved to avoid a dog.

The car crossed into east bound traffic lane, and struck an east bound car driven by Carolyn Carr, also of Oak Forest.

Injured in the accident were Carolyn Carr, her brother Carroll, Debra Rosemeier, of Markham, and Charles Taylor of Tinley Park. The injured were taken to Palos Community Hospital, where they were reported in from good to fair condition Monday by a hospital spokesman.

Dairy open house set

A DAIRY FARM OPEN HOUSE at one of the largest stanchion farms in Will County is set for Sunday afternoon, June 11, 1972. Hours for the Dairy Farm Open House are 2:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Milking time is 5:00 to 7:00 p.m.

The WILLING WILTON WORKERS 4-H CLUB issued an invitation for city and country people to see a working dairy farm — during milking time.

The event will be held at the Mel-Est Farm — a 220 acre farm of the 4-H Clubs Leader, Melvin J. Heisner. (Co-chairman of the June Dairy activities are Dean and Kent Heisner and Brian McHugh). The farm is located 2 miles north of Junction of Route 45 and 52, or 9 miles south of Frankfort, Illinois (Route 30 and 45 intersection). The name "Mel-Est" is in large white letters on a green roof and is a landmark to airplanes and Route 45 traffic.

Visitors to the farm will see cows being milked, see the milk conveyed to a large bulk tank where the milk is cooled. From there the milk is pumped into a large tank truck for transport to the dairy.

The entire herd of dairy cattle can be seen. This of course will include the calves.

This event is made possible by the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Heisner and their family. There is no charge at this open house. It is part of a 4-H June Dairy Month promotion in a twelve county area. Mr. Heisner is the leader of the Willing Wilton Workers 4-H Club.

In addition to watching the milking, visitors will have an opportunity to observe calves being fed, how milk is handled and many other operations of the dairy farm.

This is an opportunity to visit a real dairy farm in the country. Dairying has changed from the days of hand milking on the one-legged stool. The present day handling of milk, untouched by human hands, cooled by electric refrigeration, produces a superior product for today's consumers. Milk is the almost perfect food. It is a vitality drink. A pepper-upper, or taken warm at bedtime a soothing night cap. Without a doubt we should remember that "we never outgrow our need for milk."

Milk and Ice Cream will be available.

On second thought

Indy race a spectacular

By Glenn Logan

Another Indy 500 has gone into the record books and doubtless will provide auto racing buffs with months of conversation. The will tell the winners and give the times and probably other details but there are a lot of other things that could be included.

It is possible that the event has been telecast in the past but it seems to me that what were formerly shown were films — and several days later.

This year there were two hours of commercials interspersed here and there with the sight of cars going around and round, shown on TV a few hours after the race was over. Come to think about it the only way those cars could go was round and round. But with that vacuum sweeper nose and the wings at the back one would not have been surprised if they had taken to the air. It looks like that is what they are striving for and in not some too far away Indy the cars will be able to fly as well as roll, which could prevent some collisions.

But then what happens if there are no collisions? No fiery crashes? No fatalities, human beings, as a whole, like a bit of gore.

Back in the good old days of Rome the lethal event staged in the Colosseum packed the place, according to ancient scribes. And people still delight in violence although to preserve form most of us publicly deplore it.

A lot of people really don't like to see misfortune happen to their fellow men but there are many who enjoy a spot of gore and an automobile race without someone getting killed, or lacking a spectacular crash, is a dull affair for them.

No one was killed this year but there was a very scenic — perhaps photogenic is the word — crash when a car lost a know how the race was going was by radio. But then the people in the grandstand seats were in the same fix.

As yet there is no report on how many tons of hotdogs and hamburgers were consumed or the barrels of beverages. An announcer said it was 120 degrees on the track and with all that humanity packed in the infield it couldn't have been a lot cooler there. A thirst producing place. As a matter of fact one didn't need a radio to know the name of the winner. He could read about it in the morning paper but the victor is not officially announced until 8 a.m. the day following the race.

It's something like the way they used to have elections in Kentucky—vote one day and count the next. I remember years ago on national election nights of watching the wire service reports for the news from Kentucky. The datelines carried would be from small towns in isolated sections and then the story, brief and to the point—"Early returns from (such and such a place) list two dead, five wounded and the ballot boxes missing."

There were varying figures as to the dead and wounded from the different points but their was one common denominator — the ballot boxes were always missing.

In the Indy 500 no one knows until it is official just who was elected as winner. Look at this year's race. The guy some thought was the winner, but was announced as finishing second, wound up the next day in 12th place, for illegal use of fuel or trespass in a pit.

But it is a great spectacle and draws the largest crowd of any sports event in the United States. Of course, soccer games draw larger crowds in some countries but that is a lethal sport too — for spectators.

wheel and crashed into the wall, starting a fire, and for an encore smacked the fence a little further along and that time flame burst out like an explosion.

The driver, his flame-proof driving suit ablaze, managed to crawl out of the wreckage and rolled over several times on the track in an endeavor to extinguish the fire, finally using his hands to strip off his trouser legs, until help arrived. He was rushed to a hospital where it was found that while he had serious burns they were to his lower legs and hands.

There were several cars that were disabled by fire at pit stops but the drivers escaped injury.

One of those tumbling out of a flaming car was doing a dance and beating the seat of his trousers with his hand until one of the fire extinguisher crew brought him ease with a blast of foam or power dead on target.

Hot pants are said to be on their way out and whether that is so or not they have no place in auto racing any driver will tell you. Looks like those suits firemen wear when walking into a blazing area should be tailored to fit a racer driver.

So far there have been no official complaints lodged by protectors of the environment — as far as this department knows — about the hydrocarbons and gases released during the "500," and how much of each was inhaled by the 300,000 spectators.

Your correspondent was quite intrigued by views of the infield crowd given on TV. Some were sleeping, some were getting sun baths, some were rocking to the tunes of an apparent rock combo that mercifully was not picked up. The announcer did say that some of these people in the infield took a look at the race sometimes but it must have been a battle. The only way they could project and one that gave a variety of students things to do. There were the building trades classes, of course, the Vocational-Agricultural students took care of the electrical work and the Home Ec classes selected the color schemes and did most of the interior painting, staining and varnishing. The wrought iron embellishments were turned out by the metals shop students and the whole thing was overseen by the sponsor, the New Lenox Lumber Co.

It is not often, it was pointed out, that high school students build a house but the proof they did it at 120 Anderson Ave., and they invite everyone to come and look it over.

FRANKFORT — As a part of the June Dairy Month promotion the Frankfort Frauleins 4-H Club staged a parade at Frankfort Saturday afternoon. It began at the village hall where Mayor Glenn Warning issued a proclamation for Dairy Month and proceeded west to Maple street and then through the residential section.

One of the highlights was the release of 100 balloons, 85 of which carried coupons that entitled the finder to various prizes ranging from half-pints of chocolate milk to a gallon of milk, pizza and other goodies.

The girls solicited members of their families and relatives for pledges to pay them so much a block for every block traveled. The proceeds will go to the Trinity School for the Retarded youngsters.

There were 12 girls and Mrs. David Friant and Mrs. Bruce Wells, leaders, covered 25 blocks in the march but the amount of money earned would not be definitely known until today. Fire Chief Bruce Wells accompanied the marchers in the old 1923 parade pumper and Police Chief T.A. Massey was along with siren blasting.

ARBURY HILLS — The board of education of Summit Hill District 161, which operates Arbury Hills and Ann Rutledge schools and will have another in Frankfort Square in the not too far off future, is looking for board material.

There is nothing official yet but according to a spokesman there are indications that two of the present members will resign, which will necessitate appointment of replacements who will serve until the next election, which will be in April, 1973. Until the resignations are official, it was said, the names would be withheld.

The board spokesman has, however, set forth the legal requirements for a school board member—they must be 21 years of age or over; a citizen; a resident of the state and District 161 for one year preceding appointment, and cannot be a school trustee or a school treasurer.

Application blanks for those interested in serving are available at the district office in the Arbury Hills School.

All applicants will be screened by the board of education. What the board spokesman apparently forgot to mention is that school board members receive no pay for their services, receive few thanks, and put in a lot of time, all for the good of the community.

Four live in woods, plague area homes

By Michael Flynn

WILL COUNTY—Joseph R. Trizna, Sheriff of Will County, and Lt. John Shelly, Commander of the Sheriff's Police Investigation Division, have announced the arrest of four suspects allegedly responsible for nine burglaries in the Frankfort area, thus solving a minor crime wave that has plagued residents for several weeks.

Roger Majerich, 19 of Arbury Hills, the only adult was arrested along with three juvenile escapees from the Jefferson County Youth Center in Golden, Col. All were charged with numerous burglaries in Frankfort, Arbury Hills, Prestwick and Lincoln Estates recently.

Specifically the youths were charged with the two burglaries at the O-Aces Restaurant in Frankfort, one at Dirk's Dog House, two at the Arbury Hills Grade School, two at the Prestwick Country Club, one at a Prestwick residence, one at a Lincoln Estates residence and two stolen cars from Frankfort.

Detailed police work on the part of Deputy Sheriff's Peter Haas, Kenneth Downey and David Duer and Frankfort Officer Wayne Mangun is credited with the solving of the many crimes.

Will County Sheriff's Deputies report that their investigation is still continuing and that present information in their possession indicates that as many as six to eight more burglaries may be solved in the near future as a direct result of these arrests.

The juvenile escapees from Colorado arrived in the Frankfort area around May 24. They were known to have escaped from Colorado on May 23. The time of their arrival was pinpointed by the location of the car they had stolen in Colorado which was found in the Frankfort Square area.

The youths had been living, according to police reports in a make shift shelter built in a clump of trees in an open field south of the Arbury Hills School.

Indications point to the possibility that several residents in Arbury Hills may have been providing food, clothing and other assistance to the fugitive burglars.

The arrested juveniles were scheduled to appear in the Will County Juvenile Court of Judge Angelo F. Pistilli on Monday, June 5, for a hearing. They were placed in the Will County Jail over the weekend.

In Westhaven

Board meets tonight to discuss suspension

WESTHAVEN — Gerald Devero, 16059 Haven Ave. has been appointed Village trustee replacing Charles Downie. The resignation of Downie was read at the June 3 village board meeting.

The Downie family has purchased a home in Frankfort, and will be moving out of Westhaven shortly. Devero's term will run until the next village election in April of 1973.

Newly appointed trustee William Presler read a letter which stated that the charges made against policeman Mike Graczyk were false. The letter read, "Mike the Westhaven policeman did not pull a gun, whatsoever, in any shape, figure or form and all of the things people say were lies." Mike has helped the village the letter continued, and has helped the kids.

Three teens, all residents of Westhaven and an adult residing in the village signed the letter. The teens that signed the letter were witnesses to the alleged gun incident.

Mrs. Ann Woodruff also a Westhaven resident had leveled charges against the policeman at a previous village board meeting. Mrs. Woodruff told Presler if he has investigated the matter. Presler told her no, "I received the letter from another member of the Police and Fire Committee." M Presler said Mrs. Woodruff had charged that the Westhaven policeman pulled a gun on a group of teens.

The letter stated that the policeman did not pull a gun he only showed the gun to the teens. Mrs. Woodruff told Presler that she had been getting threatening phone calls, and that the board had no right to make a decision, "nobody ever heard from me" she stated.

Presler told her, "We heard from you when you leveled the charges." President Whitaker stated, "I have a signed statement, the person is ready to go into court at any time. I have adults not teenagers ready to testify." President Whitaker stated that the letter was just hearsay.

Presler told Whitaker that the letter was signed by the people that had been offended. Whitaker also stated that the policeman should prove his guilt or innocence. Village Attorney Ronald Glink told Whitaker, that's not how it works, the board has to prove the guilt of Graczyk.

Presler, who was recently appointed chairman of the Police and Fire Committee, announced an executive meeting of the committee for Wednesday, June 6th, at 8 p.m. to discuss the matter of the suspended policeman.

In other police business Presler moved that the board place an ad in the newspapers stating that the village is taking applications for qualified policemen. Presler also agreed to open the applications in the presence of President Whitaker.

The village president has previously protested that he never saw the application of the other policemen hired by the board.

Attorney Glink told Whitaker had asked that he be the first man to look at the application's. Presler told the village president that the ordinance didn't provide for that.

The police and fire committee will interview applicants and make their recommendations to the village board.

Minutes of a special meeting held May 10th required lengthy discussion as Whitaker would not accept the minutes as they stated an ad would be put in the paper for a secretary, and did not include the mention of hiring of a secretary. Whitaker said since the secretary had already been hired by the building inspector Dennis Ward, and has worked 40 hours, "I will not accept these minutes." Clerk Charles Short told Whitaker that the motion to place an ad did not include the hiring of the secretary.

Trustee Donald Kellogg moved that the board accept the minutes as read. The motion passed with trustees Kellogg, Bartholomey, Macki voting yes. Trustee Aldrich voted no and Presler abstained.

Whitaker asked the board to resolve the issue of the building department secretary and not let it hang. Attorney Glink told the board that there seemed there is a defect in the hiring motion of the secretary at the special meeting, because the minutes state only to authorize the placing of the ad. Trustee Bartholomey suggested that all applicants be required to take a typing test and the most qualified person be picked.

The board then moved that building inspector Dennis Ward be delegated to hire a secretary at $2.00 per hour with a maximum of 20 hours per week.

The motion passed with Aldrich, Kellogg, Presler and Macki voting yes, Bartholomey voted no. The board also agreed to pay the present secretary for the hours she has already worked. The secretary will continue working until all other applicants have been interviewed.

The tabling minutes of the April 15 meeting will be retyped with the deletion of certain questionable paragraphs that did not take place in the meeting. The retyped minutes will be submitted to the board for approval.

In the absence of inspector Ward President Whitaker gave the building department report. Three fence permits totaling $21.00 were issued. A stop order was placed on lot 26, block 1, of the Tekton construction, because of bowed studs. Also Tekton has been stopped from the grading of roads of phase three four and five in north Westhaven. An attached garage permit for Mr. Tom Marshall was again disapproved, a drawing accompanied the report.

Marshall told Whitaker, "Ward asked me to make the drawing and now it is no good. I'm being discriminated against if I don't get my permit." Marshall said. Three things must be considered before a permit can be issued Whitaker said, the BOCA building code, subdivision control, and the zoning ordinance. "When those are right, then I think you're going to get your permit." Whitaker said.

A lengthy discussion ensued about the signatures needed on the warrants that must be signed before checks can be issued. President Whitaker said that the village clerk does not sign the warrants, Attorney Glink said the Clerk does sign the sarrant, Whitaker than stated that the First National Bank of Blue Island, has struck his name out as a valid signature on vill ge checks.

Glink told Whitaker that the bank had no authority to strike out his signature and in fact his signature hasn't been struck out. The village attorney also said that there has never been a resolution revoking the two signatures required for village checks. The checks require the signature of the village treasurer plus either the village president of the village clerk.

Warrant 45 totaling $435.00 for building inspections payable to Dennis Ward was approved. Warrant number 44 totaling $668.89 was also approved by the board, breakdown on the warrant is as follows, Lockport building dept door $12.07, Paddock Publications $17.36, building department stickers $150.00, secretary salary for building dept. $40.00 Robinson Engineers, plan review $200.00, treasurers report $25.00, Jensen Water Co. $9.40, Illinois Bell, $48.79, Illinois Bell, $22.77, Conoco Station $3.50, Clerk Short, monthly pay for May $35.00, May pay for Trustees Bartholomey, Kellogg and Aldrich, $30.00 each, Macki $15.00. Whitaker signed warrant's 44 and 45, he also signed warrant 43, totaling $5,014.75 which reflects attorney fee's not covered by the monthly retainer.

The board approved the purchase of a electric typewriter for $200.00, four steel filing cabinets at $115.00 per unit, an adding machine costing $150.00, a typing table $30.00 receipt machine at $70.00 and $400.00 for printing and stickers for the building department.

The village president suggested that a general meeting with the entire board and Tekton be set up, the meeting should include the Village Attorney and Tektons attorney stated Whitaker, "We should settle once and for all whether they (Tekton) will build or not," Whitaker said. Tekton has disobeyed the building inspector, and we will start to arrest people as quickly as we can quote the ordinances to them, Whitaker said.

The board agreed to wait until Attorney Glink could consult his calendar for open dates for Tekton dates.

Clerk Short asked for an opinion as whether contractors permits can be issued from his home, "as a man came all the way from Indiana to get the permit."

Whitaker said nothing should be issued from any village president, clerk or trustees home, "Everyone should pay do respect and come to the village hall, this includes any kind of peddler," Whitaker said. Short also told the board that he would not be available after June 19 during the day as he will be changing his work hours.

Whitaker suggested that the Deputy Clerk Mrs. Barbara Sea take over the daytime villagehall hours.

Pre-kindergarten

Green years

TINLEY PARK—Sixteen years ago Zion Lutheran Church began a kindergarten program that ran successfully for 13 years. Enrollment reached as high as 38 pupils. Double sessions were attempted in 1960, but parental complaints led to dismissal of this procedure.

In 1970, with passage of laws making public kindergartens available, Zion included pre-kindergarten students in the program for two years to fill out the quota. (Many parents found it financially expedient to send their child to a "free" public school rather than pay tuition at a private one.) The class at this time consisted of 9 kindergarten students and 11 pre-kindergarten children.

This year, the classroom is strictly for pre-schoolers. Children entering must be four years old by December 1 of the year of entrance.

Tuition for children of church members is $20 per month; non-members pay $30. All students are charged $15 a year material fee. There are 19 children in the school this year.

Helen Johnson, who has taught all the classes since the church school opened, feels that the ideal situation would be "twenty-four students twice a day."

The classroom, situated on the second floor of the church-Sunday school building, is bright and airy. The room is carpeted, however, there are pieces of plastic under the painting easels and no visible signs of wear or tear on the floor covering. Toys are in abundance; the expected books and puzzles are stacked neatly on shelves. The blackboard has the more difficult letters chalked on it—obviously for study. There is a small altar at the front of the room and numerous pictures, both religious and patriotic, on the walls. The children are taught "that they are God's children. We don't go into specific religions," said Mrs. Johnson.

According to a letter prepared by Mrs. Johnson and given to all parents upon registering their child, "the most important function of a good pre-kindergarten program is to bridge the gap between the home and school. This is the ideal place for a child to make his entrance into this big world in which he is to live. Our program aims to stabilize the child's emotional status by slowly adjusting him to situations he will meet. We gradually prepare the children for the step into the grades. Our program also affords the child an opportunity to grow gradually and naturally in all areas of learning, without pressure or forcing."

The letter continues in outlining the year's work, program and goals. The youngsters learn to read the daily chart listing the teacher's helpers, print their own names, read readiness pages, phonetics and numbers. Report cards are sent twice a year and parent-teacher conferences scheduled when necessary.

The children receive a Weekly Reader, and table prayers are taught along with manners. There is library time, finger-plays, rhythm band, unit work, outside and inside play time and at dismissal time, instructions in buttoning coats, buckling boots, and, of course, the ever difficult task of zipping zippers.

Zion is keeping their school room filled with children. They have solved the problem temporarily.

However, according to Zion's pastor, Reverend Paul Lechner, a reversal to the problem may be forthcoming.

Many parents have inquired about the re-opening of church kindergartens. Apparently dissatisfaction has sprung up in the minds of some parents over public classroom size. Also, many parents who have sent older children in the family to parochial schools feel that the younger children in the family, who are attending public kindergartens, are not getting the same "training" that their brothers and sisters received.

According to Pastor Lechner, parochial schools in Chicago ghetto areas are presently becoming overcrowded due to parental fear over the public school's inability to cope with disciplinary problems.

"Parochial schools can dismiss a student who causes continual trouble, but, students know that they have an inherent right to attend public schools," said Pastor Lechner.

Zion is presently taking a survey for information regarding a church kindergarten as possible first grade.

The Pre-kindergarten class at Zion Lutheran Church takes time out from a busy schedule to exercise their physical muscle while giving their active minds a needed rest. Mrs. Helen Johnson, teacher of the school for 13 years, guides and joins in the daily play time.

The building is constructed in such a manner that dividing walls in the Sunday school classrooms could be removed to meet state requirements.

Money is naturally a problem, as it always is with parochial schools. Without tax aid, parents must cover the cost in tuition. With tax aid, there is always the possibility of government chosen curriculums—something most parochial schools frown upon.

Zion is coping with the school problem on a year to year basis. Fortunately, most parochial schools can fluctuate in their programs on a yearly basis, unlike public schools caught up in bureaucratic, political red tape. The most plausible solution may lie in tax deductions for parents of parochial children, or governmental grants, with a "hands-off" policy regarding curriculum.

Whatever, the answer is, it will probably be forthcoming quickly—most likely during an election year.

Gemini Engagements

SAGITTA SAYS If your engagement period extends through May 21 to June 20, the sign of Gemini, expect Mercurial influences.

Mercury is the ruling planet of this sign, and it may unearth intellectual judgments of, "Yes, I think I want this commitment" as against, "I think I want out of it." You may comment, surely this is common in all engagements.

But, Gemini, the 3rd sign of the spring equinox rules through the dispersion of energies, and a restlessness may characterize your engagement.

But, breathe easy! On a more positive note, there is also an impatience to integrate. In this context, to finally get down to the business of tying-the-knot.

MR. & MRS. LYLE PALMER

Repeat vows

PALOS HEIGHTS—Gold candles lined the aisle of the Palos Baptist Church, Palos Heights, as Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Palmer prepared to renew the wedding vows they originally took on May 25, 1922.

As organist, Diane Ooms played the Wedding March, Mrs. Palmer was escorted down the aisle by her son-in-law, John Chatfield. Gladys Nash sang "O Perfect Love."

Interim Pastor, Reverend William Mills, gave greetings and paid tribute to the faithful lives of Hazel and Lyle to each other and in their service to God and the church. Reverend K.C. Knapen, Rochester, New York, pointed to the milestones in the couple's fifty years together.

Rings were exchanged as a token of their reaffirmed vows. Three candles symbolic of their lives in Christ were on the platform. The one candle, representing Christ, remained lit.

Reverend Mills, led the congregation of over 250 guests in prayer; this was followed by Mrs. Nash singing "The Lord's Prayer."

Andrea Chatfield, great granddaughter, was flower girl. She wore a yellow gown and carried a nose-gay of yellow roses centered with a lighted gold candle.

The bride's gown was gold with gold trim; she carried a white Bible with a white orchid spray.

Wearing white trimmed blue gowns and carrying nose-gays of yellow roses centered with lighted gold candles were the bridesmaids; Lillian Veselik, Lyla Chatfield, Mary Johnson and Marylow Skaggs.

The groom's attendants were Henry Johnson, Victor Chatfield, Carl Chatfield and Robert Palmer.

Bettenhausen reviews race

TINLEY PARK — A cracked water tank, and a wobbly wheel kept Gary Bettenhausen from victory in the Indianapolis 500 and last weeks Rex Mays' 150 mile race in Milwaukee.

Bettenhausen told the HERALD the original reports that his car was sidelined by ignition problems during the 500 were "not so."

The Tinley Park racer who led through better than half of the 500 race told the HERALD that the real problem was a small crack in the water tank.

Bettenhausen said that race rules prohibit putting any liquid other than gas in the car during a race. At one point in the race when the cars were flagged to a slower speed Bettenhausen said that his engine heated to 240 degrees because of the water leak, resulting in him losing the lead.

Sunday at the Mays race a lost wheel weight caused his car to have a wobbly wheel. Bettenhausen finished the race with the wobbly wheel, coming in third.

Bettenhausen is presently in fourth place in the battle for top racing honors of 1972. Joe Leonard leads all drivers followed by Mark Donohue and Al Unser.

Summer conditioning

NEW LENOX — Beginning Monday, June 19, Lincoln-Way High School will again offer a program for all its students interested in summer conditioning for participation in athletics or intramural programs geared to individual sports, such as paddleball, handball, tennis, track, weightlifting, football, wrestling, gymnastics, cross-country and golf.

Devine heads kids fishing camp

ORLAND PARK — "For Fishermen Only", that's the motto of Joe Devine's Black Bear Fishing Camp. The Camp, one of the most enjoyable and rewarding trips offered is in it's 20th year, and is headed by one of the southwest's winningest football coaches, Joe Devine.

The trip is for boys who like fishing and the outdoor life. The boys are free to spend their time as they wish and as past experience has shown the boys occupy themselves with three main activities: fishing, eating, and sleeping.

Black Bear Lodge is located on Red Lake about 50 miles northeast of the town of Red Lake, Onatrio. Northern pike, walleye, and lake trout are three species of fish in the lake.

The Red Lake area, was once the scene of a great gold rush in the twenties and there are still five active mines in the area.

The town of Red Lake is the end of the road in Canada and the lodge is only accessible by seaplane or boat.

Black Bear Lodge is owned and operated by Walt Ruddle, a teacher at Bensenville High School.

The boys will be housed in log cabins, four to eight in a cabin. There is also a main lodge for eating and leisure. The boys will go by car through Wisconsin Dells region, Minnesota and on to International Falls, and then to Canada.

At Red Lake the boys will transfer to waiting seaplanes and fly to Black Bear Lodge. They will be able to pick their cabin and boat for fishing with the friends they want.

The typical day starts with sunrise.

They have three meals each day, and ends with sunset around 9 or 10 p.m.

The cost of the trip is $150 which includes all transportation, lodging, 10-11 days, meals, fishing license, boat, motor, fuel, and insurance.

For all payment detail and any other information call Joe Devine at 349-0052.

Bombers take lead in Federal Division

TINLEY PARK — This past week's action in the Tinley Park Softball League saw the Bombers surge to the lead in the Federal Division. The Wydeveld and Brandau Construction entry downed the previously undefeated Snappers by a 20-16 count. The Bombers now own the only perfect record in the league.

Continental Division teams continued to knock each other off. Last week's four-way tie for the top spot was broken, but the Nickelbag Revised and Roadrunners are still tied with identical 4-1 marks.

The Nickelbag team hung on to their share of the lead by taking the Latecomers, 27-17, while the Roadrunners were knocking off the Superchiefs, 13-9. However, the Superchiefs bounced back to hand the Brotherhood their second loss in a 16-10 upset effort. With only two losses each, both the Superchiefs and the Brotherhood continue to keep the pressure on the leaders.

In other Federal Division action, the Losers continued to stay close to the top spot by sinking the Lugans, 30-12. The Landlovers took a firm hold on fourth place by drubbing the Hustlers, 23-3.

The Latecomers picked up their first win of the year by tapping the Tappers with a 33 to 10 count. Sharing a comeback spirit, the Tappers pounded out an 11-6 victory over the Bears.

Twin Lakes project gets funds

OAK FOREST — Twin Lakes, perhaps the area's most oft put-off project, will be transformed this year from a barren clayhole to a landscaped recreation center. Last week, Gov. Richard Ogilvie released $232,000 in state funds for the final grading, seeding and landscaping of the land surrounding the two reservoirs, near 167th and Cicero.

Two weeks ago, the HERALD reported that the landscaping funds would have to come from a capital improvements bill pending before the state legislature. It was reported that if the bill passed and the funds were released by the governor, some landscaping work could begin this fall.

Actually, $232,000 had been appropriated under last year's capital improvements bill, but it appeared doubtful that Ogilvie would release the funds during this fiscal year.

Now that the funds have been released, this year's capital improvements bill will cover the final flood control stage of the Midlothian Creek project.

Bids have already been let on the grading, seeding and topsoil for the lakes. The bids are to be opened June 13. Ed Spyer, waterways engineer for the Illinois Department of Public Works, said, "If work can be started within two weeks, we should be finished with the landscaping by August."

Besides the landscaping work, work to be done this year includes extension of drainage culverts and installation of a major culvert between the east and west lakes. With the approval of this year's waterways bill and release of funds, work to be done next year would include the construction of flow-regulating devices to be located in the northwest portion of the tract.

Dick Buck, landscape architect for the Cook County Forest Preserve, said that the lakes, when landscaped, would be used for fishing and boating purposes.

The lakes were originally dug in 1966. Since then, they have been little more than a dangerous eyesore; the project has been ineffective as a flood control basin.

The reservoirs were jointly developed by the Illinois Division of Water Resources Management, the Cook County Forest Preserve district, the COOK County Highway department and the Illinois Division of Highways.

Rep. Don Moore (R-Midlothian) called Twin Lakes "an outstanding example of state and local agencies working together for the benefit of the people."

Moore one of the original sponsors of Twin Lakes, said, "Not only will the program end, once and for all, the flooding threat that has faced this area for years, but it will also provide needed recreational facilities and save hundreds of thousands of dollars which would otherwise have been required for stream channelization and bridge improvement work on the creek north of 167th st."

I've been promised additional funds for next year also, and if I'm successful in the November election I intend to see that my constituents receive them," he added.

Three join forces over mutual problems

SOUTHWEST—Tinley Park, Orland Park, and Oak Forest have joined forces to work out problems of mutual concern for the villages.

Officials from the three communities have had one meeting, for organizational purposes only. The next meeting will be held sometime within the next 30 days and will be hosted by Oak Forest.

Each community will be responsible for a particular aspect of the program. "If a community is particularly knowledgeable about a certain topic, or has a man that has expertise in certain fields we have attempted to have that person on a committee of his specialty," Bob Mason, Tinley Park trustee said.

Tinley Park is expected to play the lead role in planning, contributions to school districts, and boundaries. Orland Park will lead the way in building and zoning problems, and Oak Forest City manager Ron Feldner will head a committee to work out a system of combined purchases for the three communities.

A joint purchasing system would result in a large saving in purchasing cost to all communities, by buying at bulk rates.

Plant opens in fall

FRANKFORT—Frankfort is to get a new industry, Dorex, which manufactures specialty chemical items.

John Guthrie, of Olympia Fields, who heads the company was introduced to the village board Monday night by Wayne Johnson, owner of the land on which the plant is to be placed. Guthrie told the board he has hopes to have it ready for use before fall.

The company is now located at Madison, Wis. Guthrie said he attended the Frankfort Fall Festival last year, liked what he saw and the people he met, and decided to come here.

He said the plant would not add any burden to the schools—that it employed only a few people and they were of the older type who did not have young children.

"The taxes we will pay," should be profitable to both high school and grade school."

Orland offers Tinley water plan

TINLEY PARK — Orland Park has offered Tinley Park a hook-up to its water supply, according to Tinley Park village trustee Dick Durkin.

Tinley Park is planning to purchase Chicago water in the future. If approved by the village board the offer would assure Tinley of sufficient water until the village begins to use Chicago water.

According to Durkin the village will have a marginal water problem for the next 12 months. The Orland hook-up plus the hook-up with the Tinley Park State Hospital system should provide the needed water for the village according to Durkin.

The village had to use the hospital hook-up last week when breaks in the village water line caused a water shortage. The hook-up will be made at 159th street and Harlem.

Orland Park village officials said that the hook-up would not effect Orland's water supply. The cost of the hook-up has not yet been determined Durkin said.

Board annexes 2 parcels of land

By Christie Gallagher

ORLAND — At its meeting on June 5 the Orland Park Board of Trustees approved two property annexations to the village. These annexations, property belonging to Andrew Corporation and property of the Orland Park Church of the Nazarene, were previously agreed upon during separate public hearings held the same evening.

During the pre-annexation agreement public hearing for Andrew Corporation, attorney Ed Petty and management representative and engineer Roy Watts outlined the need for the annexation and rezoning. The agreement provided for an 80 acre tract located on the southeast corner of 143rd Street and 108th Avenue to be annexed to the Village and rezoned Class E-heavy industrial. This land is advantageous for tests and development of antennae equipment because of the good topography of the area.

Petty considers the agreement a "logical extension of the 1964 agreements" concerning annexation of adjacent Andrew territories. He pointed out that it would be incongruous to have uniform land spot zoned. The attorney assured the board that there was no intention to dispose of any property or buildings, or sell village water to other individuals after the property was annexed.

The board was also assured that the new antenna testing programs would in no way interfere with surrounding telephone, T.V. or radio reception. Furthermore, no noise would result from the experiments.

The annexation agreement submitted to the board by Kenneth Friker of the Nazarene Church concerned five acres of property owned by Daniel Scholz at 94th Avenue and Fairway Drive. The proposed agreement for annexation was approved by the Board and steps will be taken for its annexation. Its Class A zoning, which permits a church building, will not change. Scholz will dedicate portions of the land 3 months after the annexation, and will pay the estimated $6,066 improvement costs installing pavements, curbs, gutters and sidewalks.

Ordinance 487 was drawn up and presented to the board for inspection. This ordinance prohibits the connection of roof drains, footing drains, and any other storm water drains to any sanitary sewer line of Orland Park or the Chicago Metropolitan Sanitary District. This practice of connecting drainage to the sanitary sewers of Orland Park has always been illegal.

Earlier smoke tests of the lines proved unsuccessful, but the Board was informed of and suggested various other methods for detecting illegal connections. These methods will be used if the proposed obligatory inspections are not requested.

The ordinance calls for all property owners, occupants, firms, partnerships or corporations to request inspection of their premises if their property is hooked up to the sanitary system. This inspection will be made at the expense of the village; however, after the 60 day period the cost must be absorbed by the property owner himself.

Should a violation be noted during inspection, notice will be given and corrective measures advised. Another 60 days will be allowed for corrections and re-inspection.

It was suggested that copies of the ordinance be delivered to each property owner involved where there is located a residential structure, church, school, commercial or industrial structure, or any other structure served by the Orland Park sewerage system.

Village President Melvin Doogan will present the signed ordinance to the Sanitary District on June 7.

Trustee Jon Anderson reported on the recent two week Clean-up Campaign in the village. He commended the encouraging responses from the homeowners' associations, and the work done by local schools and boy scouts.

In other actions:

— The board approved of its reappearance on the roster of the Illinois Civil Defense Council

— The request for a business license for PM Watch Repair was referred to committee because of its residential location.

— Approval was given the application of Burger King, 159th & Harlem, requesting an M.S.D. inspection

— The sole bid submitted by Richard Tinnish of Evergreen Park for the 1971 Mercury Squad car was rejected at $101.00

— Police Commissioner Jerry Monnett informed the Board of the number of unclaimed bikes at the police station. The board authorized the village attorney to draw up a bike ordinance.

'Settlers Cemetery' fund drive underway

ORLAND-TINLEY — Persons wishing to assist with the restoration of the "Settlers Cemetery" on Harlem Avenue are being given a chance to buy a "plot" with the funds going to the restoration project.

Elsewhere in this issue of the HERALD (Page 15) an announcement gives details of the fund raising project.

The small cemetery, which rests in the shadow of an Orland Park water tower, has been vandalized and desecrated through the years. Only a few head stones remain, some dating from 1809.

Orland Park Mayor Melvin Doogan has asked Mrs. George Brown to head up the restoration effort and the initial work has been started. Although some funds have been donated and several contractors and firms have donated time and material, Mrs. Brown reports approximately $1,000 is still needed to complete fencing, sodding and repairing the head stones.

The "buy a plot" campaign will assist in providing these funds. Persons interested in supporting the restoration may make a contribution to the fund and their name will be placed on a "headstone." A future issue of the HERALD will carry another page announcement and it will contain these "headstones" and "plots."

A coupon in this week's announcement assists interested individuals in sending their donations to the Settlers' Cemetery Fund, Orland State Bank.

Cub bake sale set

OAK FOREST — Cub Scout Pack 352 will have a bake sale Saturday, June 10, at Oak Food and Family Center, 151st Street and Central Avenue. Other coming events include the Webelos overnighter Aug. 19-20, and the pack family picnic Sept. 10.

The pack held its last meeting of the season May 22. Many summer activities are being planned until regular pack meetings resume in September. The first planned activity is a hike scheduled at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 24, from the church parking lot at 151st Street and Central Avenue. Scouts will hike at nearby forest preserves.

Advancements took the spotlight at the May meeting. Michael De Francisco graduated to Scout Troop 362, Chris Zavos, Bill Rudd, Ron Berger, Tim Reimer and Bill Johnson advanced to the rank of Wolf Club. Mike Dolan advanced to Bear and Steven Hingendorf was welcomed as a new Bobcat.

Achievement awards were also presented at the meeting. Frank Burres, Jim Keller, John Tisevich, Tim Reimer, David Western, David Brown, Michael Dolan, Jeff Fero, Joe Flaherty and John Kruczek received arrow point awards.

FRANKFORT—June is Dairy Month and as a part of its observance a dairy farm open house at one of the largest stachion farms in Will County is set for Sunday afternoon, June 11. The hours are from 2:30 to 7 p.m. Milking time is 5 and 7 p.m.

The Willing Wilton Workers 4-H Club has issued an invitation for city and country people to see a working dairy farm—at milking time.

The event will be held on Mel-Est Farm, the 220-acre farm of 4-H Clubs leader, Melvin J. Heisner. (Co-chairman of the June Dairy activities are Dean and Kent Heisner and Brian McHugh.)

The farm is located two miles north of the junction of U.S. 45 and 52, or nine miles south of the intersection of U.S. 45 and 30 at Frankfort. The name, "Mel-Est" is inscribed on a green roof in large white letters and is a landmark for planes and Route 45 traffic.

Visitors to the farm Sunday will see cows beign milded, the mild conveyed to a large bulk tank where the milk is cooled, and from there the milk is pumped into a large tank truck for transport to the dairy.

The entire herd of dairy cattle, including the calves, can be seen. In addition to watching the milking visitors will have an opportunity to observe calves being fed, how milk is handled and many other operations.

It was pointed out that this is an opportunity to visit a modern dairy farm. Dairying has changed a lot from the days of hand milking on the one-legged stool.

The open house Sunday is made possible, it was explained, by the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Heisner and family. There is no charge at the open house, which is part of a June Dairy Month promotion in a 12 county area.

Melvin Heisner is the leader of the Willing Wilton Workers 4-H Club.

Orland plans Jaycee group

ORLAND PARK — Young men in this community interested in participating in a local Jaycee Chapter are asked to attend an information meeting Thursday, June 15.

The 8 p.m. event will be held at the new Administration Building, 147th Street and Park Lane. Officials of the Oak Forest Jaycee group will conduct the meeting.

Ray Gamel, an Oak Forest Jaycee, will explain the objectives of a local Jaycee chapter and show a slide presentation.

Men between the ages of 18 and 40 are invited to attend.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER BY JIM HIRSCH

Lots of proud people strive for and glory in a stunning status symbol. Other people, equally proud, have a sad status. For some families, a status symbol is a heritage given in the cradle, released at the grave.

A status symbol is an accomplishment. However, a moral stature linked to the material status is far more important. Surely all good people will agree moral stature should overshadow material status.

A status symbol is a fragile possession. Bad judgment, bad breaks, bad behavior - even other people can crash a status symbol to smithereens. A moral stature is not so fragile. You can destroy it of course, but no one else can destroy it for you. A status symbol is a part of the world. Moral stature is a part of the person. This is another way of pointing out, "We are in the world - we are not of the world."

Looking for a great fishing hole? We can lead you to three!

Who'd have thought that the cooling water systems of our generating stations would spawn three great fishing holes? One in Waukegan. One just east of the Illinois-Indiana line in Hammond. And another near Springfield.

Waukegan Fishing Hole. Folks tell us that the breakwater at our Waukegan Generating Station is one of the greatest fishing spots on Lake Michigan. They discovered swarms of coho and trout in the warmer waters of our outflow. In fact, the area became so popular with fishermen that we built a public access to our breakwater, and turned it over to the City of Waukegan as a fishing pier.

State Line Fishing Hole. Here again, at our State Line Generating Station, the fish gravitated to the warmer waters of our outflow. We recently gave the public access to over 2500 feet of shoreline. Now there's plenty of casting room for fishermen.

Sangchris Lake State Park Fishing Hole. This is one of the first cooling lakes built by a utility company to be turned into a recreational area. This beautiful 2700-acre lake is stocked with a dozen species of fish.

Camping, fishing, boating—it's all here for you—on a lake that didn't even exist five years ago. So bring your poles and bait. Fish and think your thoughts. Who knows, electric generating stations may be closer to nature than any of us ever thought.

1. Waukegan Station. Go to intersection of Sheridan Road and Greenwood Ave. in north Waukegan. Go east on Greenwood to lake and fishing pier.

2. State Line Station. Go east on 103rd St. to end of street. Turn north (left) to 100th St. Turn right on 100th St. and proceed to Calumet Park. Then right to lake shore south of generating station.

3. Sangchris Lake. From Chicago, take Route 66 to Bypass Route 55 around Springfield. At junction of 55 and 29, turn southeast on Route 29 and proceed about 5 miles to Rochester. In Rochester, turn south at Sangchris sign and go 7 miles to New City. Turn east, proceed about 3 miles.
